

NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

New York, Sept. 6, 1899. Along with those twin travelling newspaper paragraphs which give, respectively, details concerning the "oldest inhabitant" and the lucky water who has been left a large fortune, may be classed the one which specifies...

A World's Fair is the latest thing spoken of in this city. Our former Exposition was very far from being a success. But little inducement was given to foreign inventors, artisans, and artists...

"Wo ist der Gute Stoff?" is the exclamation of the German population here in view of the dearth of lager. We have as little beer here as you have water in Philadelphia...

At the hour of noon did you ever stop in at the bar-room of the Astor House, and take lunch? They give you music—a fine band, in which the harp and the violin play prominent parts...

The Humboldt Centenary, to-morrow week. A portion of the celebration will probably consist of a torchlight procession along Broadway...

The Great Festive Season of the Jews. The celebrating of the mystic number seven. All the synagogues in the city were opened for special services, and many of the public halls that, as a rule, are employed for secular purposes...

Miss Bateman is expected to commence her season here next Monday week, unless new arrangements are entered into with Mr. Jefferson. Miss Bateman is one of the many proofs that the actress who has once tasted of success finds, in the seclusion of married life and at the fireside, no compensations for the loss of public triumphs...

NEW JERSEY POLITICS. The South Jersey Republican, in referring to the fight between the Republican party and the "ring" in Camden, says:— "There is a stir in Camden county politics. An organization has been formed in the city of Camden called the "Republican Invincibles," and they have put forth a series of resolutions, which we append. If they are sincere in the object for which they are organized they can do a good work, for the "ring" has been in power...

In Camden. Political intrigue has been reduced to an exact science, and the honors and profits of office have been too often peddled out by a few who have manipulated the wires with more skill than devotion to principle. There have been good men there, and the men elected to the Legislature have usually been right men. It is the way in which they have been selected that seems to give offense.

Camden, August 24, 1899. Thomas Jefferson said that British insolence had given "the last stab to agonizing affection," and we can, with force as well as feeling, use this language to those men, self-elected leaders of the Republican party in this county, who have ruled us with a rod of iron, and who, instead of advancing the Republican standard in New Jersey, have by supineness, by selfishness and indolence, given over our gallant State into the hands of the common enemy. No man asperse our motives, because we are driven in sincerity but in sorrow, and by the power of justice, to take our appeal to the people of Camden county.

We do not envy the men whom we have elevated to high places, if from these places they choose to regard the masses of the people as asses, ready saddled and bridled, whose willing backs bend in order that any demagogue may ride forward into power.

It is because we believe manhood is more precious than money that we cry out against our blind leaders, who believe it is the chief end of man (not to glorify God), but to get into a fat place, and take all their family there also; into the ark of office.

It is because we love and revere the simple and sublime declaration of Republican principles that animated Paul, (a shining and Christian Republican), when he declared that of one blood God created all the nations of the earth; it is because we solemnly believe that all men are created equal, that we here and now pledge our sacred honor that we will, to the bitter end, make war upon the insolence, the imbecility, and the ignorant injustice, the contempt of the popular will that has ruled the actions of men who never were controlled by love of the people. These men scorn human conscience, and know no political creed but the loaves and fishes of office. They are led and actuated by unhalloved ambition, not by pure and unselfish patriotism that is willing to do and dare, and die at the call of one's country. It is because we believe in the dignity of labor that we beseech labor to speak out for its own honor, in its own defence, and for an honest expression of the will of the majority. Soldiers! will you be "kribeled without pence, and cheated without common sense" longer? Strike a blow for yourselves, and defeat the "Ring."

Men of Camden county, the proclamation of our principles is uttered by the brain and soul of those who think and labor. The Republican Invincibles lead the van for liberty for all to do their own political thinking. Will you men of New Jersey think for yourselves? Our motto—"Down with the Ring," and we say up with the Ring which will lead to the most, and write upon it—"The time has come when those who toil and they who think in the Republican party shall rule it." Let us do our duty, and the "Rings" will no longer control Camden county, the State or the nation.

We move onward, animated by that just audacity which belongs to strong hearts and a manly purpose. We are ready to meet defeat in a good cause, if it must come, or to welcome the victory that follows the brave, and we go forward conscious that right makes might, and may God defend the right.

FANCY—NOBLY—PLAIN. The opening of new styles of material for the FALL AND WINTER OF 1899.

By CHARLES STOKES, LEADER OF FASHION, being as usual in the advance with his modes for the coming season.

The immense assortment now arranged for the inspection of the public eclipses any ever exposed for sale in this city, comprising as it does, all styles of PLaid CHEVYOTS, PLaid BANNOCKBURNS, PLaid CASIMERES, PLaid SCOTCH, ENGLISH, FRENCH AND AMERICAN COATINGS, FANCY AND PLAIN BRAVERS, TRICOTS, DIAGONALS. Every variety and shade of Casimere and Cloths for FALL OVERCOATS.

In fact, his assortment is full up with all the NOVELTIES OF THE SEASON. His corps of Cutters the most tasty and skillful. PRICES REASONABLE. YOUR PATRONAGE RESPECTFULLY SOLICITED.

THE FEVER AND AGUE SEASON.—When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marshes and swamps saturated with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from fostering pools and sluggish streams, the sun of September evolves clouds of miasmatic vapor perilous to health and life. The body, deprived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity, is not in a proper plight to resist malaria; and hence all diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSSETT'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, liable to such visitations, give heed to the warning and advice contained in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising, night and day, from the soil around them. No farmhouse in the land should be without this invaluable and pleasant medicine at any period of the year, but especially in the fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chill, misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medicinal chemistry has given to the world HOSSETT'S BITTERS are admitted to be the purest, the most wholesome, and the most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the bilious attacks, bowel complaints, and malacious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the present season. It is as wholesome as it is infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSSETT'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound.

FROM THE WEST. Sentence of an Indian Murderer. Dispatch to The Evening Telegraph.

Damage to Booth's Theatre. New York, Sept. 6.—Mr. Magonigle, manager of Booth's Theatre, preferred a charge against a discharged employe of wilful injury to the theatre by permitting the water from the fire built within to overflow the theatre. The theatre, the orchestra, and even the stage was completely submerged. McCurdy acknowledged his guilt, but pleaded drunkenness.

FROM BALTIMORE. Discharge of the Alleged German Convicts. BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—The examination to-day before Justice Hagerty in the case of the seven German emigrants from Bremen, on the barque Atlanta, charged with being convicts and paupers, resulted in their prompt discharge from custody. It is stated, from the facts elicited at the examination, that the arrest had been caused by a rival emigrant line in New York, who caused the first despatch to be forwarded from Bremen.

FROM NEW ENGLAND. Senator Fessenden's Condition. PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 6.—Senator Fessenden continues about the same as last night.

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES. HERRING'S CHAMPION SAFES. THE BURNING OF EARLE'S ART GALLERY. PHILADELPHIA, September 1, 1899. Messrs. FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 CHESTNUT STREET, Gentlemen:—We have just examined, with the very greatest satisfaction, our Safe, purchased of you some years ago, and which passed through our destructive fire of last night.

We find the contents, without exception, entirely unharmed, merely slightly damp, and we feel now in a condition to commence our business again, having every book perfectly safe. We shall in a few days require a larger one, and will call upon you. Very respectfully, JAMES S. EARLE & SONS, No. 629 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

CHAMPION SAFES. PHILADELPHIA, August 27, 1899. Messrs. FARREL, HERRING & CO. Gentlemen:—In the year 1886 I unfortunately was in business in the Artisan Building, which was destroyed by fire on the 10th of April. I had then in use what I supposed was a Fire-Proof Safe, but upon opening it I found everything destroyed, and fire burning therein. You will recollect, gentlemen, there was several of your Safes in that fire, also several in the fire at Sixth and Commerce streets, the next May, five weeks afterwards, all of which upon being opened proved they were fire-proof. Indeed, for I witnessed the opening of the most of them, and in every case the contents were preserved, while Safes of other makers were partially or entirely destroyed. I at once concluded to have something that I could depend upon, and purchased one of your Safes.

The safe I purchased of you at that time was subjected to a white heat, all of which was witnessed by several gentlemen that reside in the neighborhood of the destruction of my Marble Paper factory, 272 Wallace street, on the afternoon and evening of the 24th inst. After digging the safe from the ruins, and opening it this morning, I was much pleased to find everything, consisting of books, papers, money and silverware, all right. I shall want another of your safes as soon as I can get a place to continue my business in. I could not rest contented with any other make of safes. CHARLES WILLIAMS, Marble Paper Manufacturer.
